Richmond for Thanksgiving, the great day of the feast.

Be it said to the discredit of New England, which is credited with originating Thanksgiving, that the supply of cranberries this year is not so plentiful. They sell now for from 11 to 15 cents a quart retail, and are scaved at that. Celery, another staple of the Thanksgiving dinner table, is fairly easy to get, with prices ranging about 10 cents a stalk.

To him that hath not a turkey shall be given a chicken or a duck or a goose. The two latter seem to be in the lead for favor on local markets, and not enough of them can be found to meet the demand. Ducks are going for 26 cents and geese for 25 cents.

Big Supply on Hand,
To-day is expected to be the big day for Thanksgiving buying. In readiness for the rush, dealers have on hand a large supply of fowls and all the other dinner accessories they can secure. Live turkeys, said a merchant last night, can be obtained for 29 cents as profer those already dressed, which

McDaniel's resolutions requesting executive elemency for the young mountaineer without objection or any particular display of feeling. There was a rift in the lute when a woman rose in one of the front rows with the question:

"What I want to know is, does this resolution include a petition for elemency for Floyd Allen also?"

"I'd thank you to know that it does not." declared a woman on the platform, with some asperity. "He doesn't deserve any."

Name of Floyd Not Added.

This exchange produced ripples of the state of the control of the program, held back the list of subjects to be discussed by the Governors this year, and this will be published within a few days. The Governors will begin arriving in Richmond next Tuesday, and some form of entertainment will be prepared for them on that furnished the state of the control of the contr

Governor Mann will accompany a number of the visiting Governors to washington Saturday morning to have lunch at the White House, when President Taft will present to the executives his views upon the extension of rural credits.

While politics count for but little in the Conference of Governors, it is an interesting feature of the coming gathering that Democrats will predominate. The only references to political parties during the conference are made jokingly, partisan ideas being left out of all questions.

The Governor received final notice yesterday from Governor John F. Shafroth, of Colorado, that he will be unable to attend the conference. About thirty Governors will be present.

special meeting of the Board of Alder-men to act on the light and power franchise, and no application for such a meeting has reached President Wilganization formed by colored business men of Richmond, which will engage in all of the operations of an ordinary trust company.

The charter as drawn provides for an authorized capitalization of $125, 000, of which $50,000 must be paid up before the concern can begin business. The incorporators are named as John Mitchell, Jr., Thomas H. Wyatt, Dillon J. Chavers and John T. Taylor.

John Mitchell, Jr., who, as managed the new institution, said last night that plans had already been made to fit new institution, said last night that plans had already been made to fit up quarters over the Mechanics. Savings Bank, at Third and Clay Streets, and that the corporation would secure its capital and open for business on January 1, 1912. The entire third floor of the bank building will be turned over to the trust company.

The corporation, he said, is unique among financial institutions formed by colored people, since it is the first instance in which colored people since it is the first instance in which colored people wish to engage, and will probably extend its field of business so as to include other cities than Richmond. It is thought that the company will help materially in rusing the sanacial status of Southern negroes.

The officers of the corporation will be John Mitchell, Jr., managing director and resident chairman; Thomas H. Wyatt, secretary; John T. Taylor, treasurer, and Roscee C. Mitchell, Peter C. Lamser, and John H. Braxton, directors are rusiness.
